

tforchange's Blog

Creating a better future for India's Cotton Farmer Children

Young people entering the city of Dawn – Auroville heading towards a New Time.

May 25, 2014 · by tforchange · in Auroville, AVI NL, Economics, youngsters.

What a wonderful meeting today at Auroville International NL in Den Hague. <http://www.auroville.nu> Nice people, strong consciousness and awareness, connected in love with the ongoing creation of the city of dawn; Auroville. The member meeting today with the felt urgency to give young people, the new generation, a leading role in Auroville. A very inspiring meeting and lecture of Henk Thomas who held a presentation of his research and his book: “Economics for People and Earth”. Let me quote one of Henk’s conclusions that I fully agree with: There is clearly a need to design new institutions that are essential for safeguarding Auroville’s business activities in a number of aspects, and to prevent financial losses, which may jeopardise the entire economic structure. The roles of existing institutions, as well as existing loan and investment funds, must be carefully assessed in the light of demands of the new times.

Related

There should be somewhere on Earth a place wich no nation could claim as its own.

In "America pavilion"

Dutch Girls Ellen en Iris, volunteering in India- Auroville for T For Change

In "Auroville"

Into the hart of Matrimandir , Auroville, India .