The Dharma, at once religious law of action and deepest law of our nature, is not, as in the Western idea, a creed, cult or ideal inspiring an ethical and social rule; it is the right law of functioning of our life in all its parts. The tendency of man to seek after a just and perfect law of his living finds its truth and its justification in the Dharma. Everything indeed has its dharma, its law of life imposed on it by its nature; but for man the dharma is the conscious imposition of a rule of ideal living on all his members. Dharma is fixed in its essence, but still it develops in our consciousness and evolves and has its stages; there are gradations of spiritual and ethical ascension in the search for the highest law of our nature. All men cannot follow in all things one common and invariable rule. Life is too complex to admit of the arbitrary ideal simplicity which the moralising theorist loves. Natures differ; the position, the work we have to do has its own claims and standards; the aim and bent, the call of life, the call of the spirit within is not the same for everyone: the degree and turn of development and the capacity, adhikāra, are not equal. Man lives in society and by society, and every society has its own general dharma, and the individual life must be fitted into this wider law of movement. But there too the individual’s part in society and his nature and the needs of his capacity and temperament vary and have many kinds and degrees: the social law must make some room for this variety and would lose by being rigidly one for all. The man of knowledge, the man of power, the productive and acquisitive man, the priest, scholar, poet, artist, ruler, fighter, trader, tiller of the soil, craftsman, labourer, servant cannot usefully have the same training, cannot be shaped in the same pattern, cannot all follow the same way of living. All ought not to be put under the same tables of the law; for that would be a senseless geometric rigidity that would spoil the plastic truth of life. Each has his type of nature and there must be a rule for the perfection of that type; each has his own proper function and there must be a canon and ideal for the function. There must be in all things some wise and understanding standard of practice and idea of perfection and living rule, — that is the one thing needful for the Dharma. A lawless impulsion of desire and interest and propensity cannot be allowed to lead human conduct; even in the frankest following of desire and interest and propensity there must be a governing and restraining and directing line, a guidance. There must be an ethic or a science, a restraint as well as a scope arising from the truth of the thing sought, a standard of perfection, an order. Differing with the type of the man and the type of the function these special dharmas would yet rise towards the greater law and truth that contains and overtops the others and is universally effective.

This then was the Dharma, special for the special person, stage of development, pursuit of life or individual field of action, but universal too in the broad lines which all ought to pursue. The universal embracing dharma in the Indian idea is a law of ideal perfection for the developing mind and soul of man; it compels him to grow in the power and force of certain high or large universal qualities which in their harmony build a highest type of manhood. In Indian thought and life this was the ideal of the best, the law of the good or noble man, the discipline laid down for the self-perfecting individual, ārya, śreṣṭha, sajana, sādhu. This ideal was not a purely moral or ethical conception, although that element might predominate; it was also intellectual, religious, social, aesthetic, the flowering of the whole ideal man, the perfection of the total human nature. The most varied qualities met in the Indian conception of the best, śreṣṭha, the good and noble man, ārya. In the heart benevolence, beneficence, love, compassion, altruism, long-suffering, liberality, kindness, patience; in the character courage, heroism, energy, loyalty, continence, truth, honour, justice, faith, obedience and reverence where these were due, but power too to govern and direct, a fine modesty and yet a strong independence and noble pride; in the mind wisdom and intelligence and love of learning, knowledge of all the best thought, an openness to poetry, art and beauty, an educated capacity and skill in works; in the inner being a strong religious sense, piety, love of God, seeking after the Highest, the spiritual turn; in social relations and conduct a strict observance of all the social dharmas, as father, son, husband, brother, kinsman, friend, ruler or subject, master or servant, priest or warrior or worker, king or sage, member of clan or caste: this was the total ideal of the ārya, the man of high upbringing and noble nature. The ideal is clearly portrayed in the written records of ancient India during two millenniums and it is the very life-breath of Hindu ethics. It was the creation of an at once ideal and rational mind, spirit-wise and worldly-wise, deeply religious, nobly ethical, firmly yet flexibly intellectual, scientific and aesthetic, patient and tolerant of life’s difficulties and human weakness, but arduous in self-discipline. This was the mind that was at the base of the Indian civilisation and gave its characteristic stamp to all the culture.”

REPORT OF THE FAMC
Over the month of December 2021

Members: Amy, Angelo, Jonas, Lisa, Marc, Palani, Ranjith, Stephan Invited: Under Secretary Mr. Srinivasamurthy.
Guest: Mr. Kalyani (Office of the Secretary, AVF, auditor)
Secretaries: Svenja, Balaji; FAMC Finance Secretary: Madhan

1. Topics of special concern of the Office of the Secretary, Auroville Foundation (AVFO)
   a. "Envisioning Exercise Group". The Secretary, AVFO, has started an "Envisioning Exercise Group" which usually meets every 2nd Wednesday of the month. A couple FAMC members attend regularly. The FAMC is supposed to give inputs on "Economy" for the development of the Industrial Zone; on housing for 15,000 Aurovilians; on the development of the Industrial Zone; on the management of ACARAT; on self-sustainability; on the Auroville overall budget; on lands for income generation; and on simplifying the structure of entities of the Auroville Foundation, among other matters.
   b. GST sub-committee. The FAMC has been informed that this Committee has been created by the AVFO. The FAMC was not invited to participate.
   c. Discipline Farm. A complaint from one of the residents of Discipline Farm was made to the AVFO. The FAMC plans to appoint a team to make an analysis of all the data that was gathered by an assessment group.
   d. Humanscape records. Records relating to Humanscapes are still pending submission to AVFO, by the Housing Service.
   e. Maintenance of records. It has been suggested by the AVFO that executives whose term is ending will hand over all records pertaining to the unit to their successor(s) or to the accountant of the Trust to have continuity and guarantee availability of records. The FAMC has noted this request.
   f. Change of purpose of a unit or trust and its management. Mr. Srinivasamurthy stated that henceforth, any change of purpose of a unit or Trust or its management has to be approved by the Secretary, AVF. The FAMC has objected to this in an email stating that it is not in accordance with the mandate of the FAMC approved by the RA, and would imply a change in policy, which needs to be approved by the Resident Assembly. The Office of the Secretary has not replied to the FAMC response.
   g. In regards to statements made by the FAMC, Mr. Srinivasamurthy stated that the FAMC is guided by the Rules of the Foundation and that the Secretary is the convener of the FAMC, as provided by the Rules, and that the Secretary of the AVF wishes to see that the FAMC is on the same page in an harmonious way. This has been noted in the minutes of the FAMC meeting.
   h. TDS refund. The FAMC has requested further information from the Under Secretary about an email from the office of the Auroville Foundation stating that the TDS refund amount would only be disbursed with the approval from the Governing Board. Verbally it has been reported that the Finance Committee is being formed and disbursement approval may be subject to it and the Governing Board.
   i. Maitreyee II flat allocation to AVF staff. According to the Under Secretary there is an increasing need for housing as two new staff members have joined the Office of the Secretary, AVF. The FAMC has agreed to allocate one apartment. The understanding between the FAMC and the Under Secretary is that the apartment will be utilized by the Office of the Secretary, AV Foundation for housing a staff member for a duration of one year, after which the time period may be extended. The AVFO will maintain the flat.
   j. Centralized accounting. Draft Standard Operating Procedures (SoP) for Centralized Accounting are in the making which identify levels of access and the process to be followed for changing the chart of accounts.
   k. 51 crore budget submission. Mr. Srinivasamurthy brought up the topic of the FAMC’s announcement on Auronet with regard to the “special budget” GoI grant, not having come through any process. He expressed that this should have been avoided as the budget was a “work in progress”. The FAMC members explained that they are the representatives of the Resident Assembly. FAMC is normally involved in budgeting processes that are submitted to the Government of India (GoI). It is the duty of the FAMC to put the facts forward to the community and to inform the community of the non-involvement of the FAMC in this particular budgeting process.

2. Appeals
   General. A change in process has been proposed by the Auroville Council (AVC), but the FAMC considers the proposal still too vague and lacking a timeline of implementation. The FAMC has proposed that all appeals be on hold until the current process, “experimental” in 2017, has been reviewed, updated and approved by the RA. The matter is being further discussed.

3. Units and Trusts issues
   a. General.
      i. Guest House Trust. The FAMC met with Guest House Trust (GHT) trustees and discussed (1) the accounting of outstanding funds in different collection accounts; (2) the status of paying the GST penalties by the various guesthouses and the audit charges wrt to the GST penalties; (3) the restructuring of the GH Trust; (4) the status of the executive team of the Exploration Unit; the communication with the small guest houses; and (5) the necessary reappointment of new members of the GFCG (Guest Facilities Coordination Group).
      ii. Tamil Ulagam. The FAMC is exploring if this activity could function under Village Action Trust instead of the current Auromitra Trust.
      iii. ACUR. A summary of the feedback received on ACUR’s vision paper is awaited.
      iv. Nirami Studio. A Rs. 17 lakhs loan request is pending awaiting a 5-year business plan, describing the expected revenue that will be generated from the additional equipment which would be purchased with the loan.
   b. Appointment, reappointment or resignation of trustees, unit executives and activity managers. Note: changes concerning trustees are approved in collaboration with the Working Committee.
      i. Mayurika Creation, an activity under the unit Auroville Activities (AVA). Managers: Mrs. Grace Nagappan, Mrs. Indirani Sadasivendran. Approved.
      iii. Nature’s Gift, an activity under the unit Auroville Food Activities (AFA). Manager changes. Appointment of Mrs. Rajaveni Balasundharam, resignation of Ms. Karin Latzke and Mr. Sami (Nicolas Alexander). Approved on condition that the manager will secure the proper registration of the required food licenses.
iv. Handy Market, a unit under ABC Trust. Executive reappointment of Mrs. Revathi Iyanaar and new executive appointment of Mr. Pradynuma Rathinam. Executive reappointment of Mr. Sathyamoorthy Pathachaippan (Kalía) is pending as FAMC intends to look into the finances of the unit Progress Landscapes and Constructions of which Kalía is one of the executives.

c. New activities

i. Sundara, an activity under the unit LEAD (Learn Experience And Develop). Managers: Ms. Rebeła Lopez Isabel, Ms. Teresa Áleman Lopez. Approved.

ii. Yoga Cosmopolite, an activity under the unit LEAD. Manager: Ms. Namoh Nugier. Approved.

iv. The Banyan, an activity under the unit Auro Small Scale Activities (ASSA). Manager: Mr. Mike Lee. Approved.

d. Changing of activity and domain name

i. The name of Auroville Timelines, an activity under the unit Auroville Art Service has been changed into “Timelines Auroville” and the domain name to “Film Institute, Auroville”. The activity information will be changed in ACARAT accordingly.

4. Housing issues

a. Center Field. The FAMC has sent a request to the Auroville Town Development Council (ATDC) for a detailed measurement (distance between the two black lines on a map provided, & width of the road), and which houses, according to them, will need to be demolished. The FAMC will ask the Housing Service to make a housing valuation of the assets in the Center Field area that would need to be demolished. The ATDC reply is awaited.

b. Botanical Garden. A request has been made to transform two Botanical Gardens caretaker houses into residential stewardships. This is under review and consideration.

5. Various topics

a. Loan issues. A discussion with the debtor and the guarantor of a loan taken from the Unity Fund for creation of a guest house showed that there are different understandings of the concept of a guarantor guaranteeing a timely loan repayment. The guarantor stated that, as the asset has been built and is owned by Auroville, this is the guarantee. He further stated that when no more revenue would be coming into the guest house and everything would collapse, he would be ready to repay the outstanding loan. The FAMC explained its understanding of a guarantor, i.e., that the guarantor will pay monthly installments on behalf of the person who took the loan when that person is not paying on time. It was agreed that parties will meet to work out a proper financial plan. Additionally, the FAMC will write a note on the role of the guarantor for future clarification.

b. Rainwater management. The FAMC supports a proposal from Kireet and will forward it to the BCC to provide Rs 5 lakhs to enlarge existing water catchment areas and to find a solution for rainwater harvesting in the Darkalí area, as the proposed Ring Road threatens the existing rainwater harvest structures that have been created over the years. The FAMC has expressed appreciation for the work done by Kireet and his willingness to further support this work with his own funds.

c. Accounting charges. A study done by the FAMC shows that Auroville’s accounting units use widely different rates for the same work. The question came up if Auroville’s accounting units are ‘services’ or ‘income-generating units’ and if accounting charges can be identical for the same type of work. The FAMC Resource Group (FARG) has been asked for its view on the matter.

d. ‘Commercial’ vs. ‘income-generating’. The term “income-generating” vs “commercial” was discussed and needs to be fleshed out further to come up with a proper definition. The term “Furtherance of Auroville” (income tax related term) was mentioned. Guidance from Chartered Accountants will be sought.

e. FAMC maintenance. The FAMC has decided to ask the Budget Coordination Committee (BCC) for the maintenances of all members and the secretariat team. This is a movement towards the community supporting its working group members instead of the funds coming from a Gōl grant.

f. Foreign donation monitoring. It has been agreed to monitor donations that fall under the Foreign Contribution Regulation Act (FCRA) that are distributed to individual projects from the Unity Fund. Project holders would be requested to submit expense budget and project papers as applicable, before disbursement. It is noted that not all foreign donations are for ‘projects’. A special branch could be created in the Unity Fund to do the monitoring; additional human resources would be needed. More details to follow.

PETITIONS AND RESIDENTS ASSEMBLY DECISION-MAKING (RAD)

Dear Community, The RAS approached the Council regarding displeasure directed at them by members of the community in regard to the order in which upcoming RADs should be hosted, and specifically in regard to the current RAD that suggests a pause on Crown development, and why it was given priority over other older proposed RADs. The current RAD became an urgent RAD because this topic is so central to Auroville at this time and directly affects everyone of us. Therefore it is very reasonable that it took precedence over other RADs.

In the current situation where there are several proposed RADs, RAS, in consultation with Council, has to determine the order in which these are to be held because certain RADs are of greater urgency to the community, bearing in mind that hosting simultaneous RADs is problematic and confusing.

As a first priority, the new draft of a selection process for working groups will be put to a RAD because our next round of selections is due to take place in March 2022. This was already the intention many months ago. The proposal from SPRTF (Selection Process Review Task Force) that is yet to be published will be suggested as an alternative to the current ratified selection process of the PWG 2020 document. Please stay posted for the announcement.

The next RAD after this will be determined in due time with the intention of addressing the most urgent and important topics faced by the community.

We request any petitioners of RADs that were filed prior to the ratification of the interim RAD process, to please contact the RAS again if they still wish to pursue these. It is the responsibility of the representatives of the petitioners suggesting a RAD to drive and hold the process with the assistance of the RAS. Considering the many requests we propose that only one RAD is presented by any group of representatives.

Warm regards, Auroville Council
REGARDING THE DECLARATION FORM

Dear Friends, we have checked the issue of the declaration form with the Foundation Office. It was clarified that this was a pilot/draft to get a pulse of what will be the most appropriate version. The declarations signed by about 20 people so far stand canceled.

The matter will be discussed further with the Secretary.

Sincerely, The Working Committee
(Anu, Arun, Chali, Hemant, Pantha, Sauro, Srinoy)

NOTES ON THE MEETING WITH GOVERNING BOARD

On 18 January 2022 by Six Aurovilians

On the 15 January 2022, the Working Committee of Auroville published that a Governing Board meeting had been called for the 18 January 2022 but no agenda was given.

A group of Aurovilians met the WC on the morning of the 17 January 2022 to request a meeting with the GB. Six Aurovilians: Alain Bernard, Abha, Aravinda, Fred, Prashant and Suhasini volunteered to present to the GB the concerns of many residents regarding the present conflict.

On the 18 January 2022 — Alain, Abha, Fred, Prashant and Suhasini — met with the GB for about 45 minutes from 13.20 hrs. Present in the meeting from the GB were Chairman R. N. Ravi, Dr. Tamilisai Soundararajan, Dr. Nirima Oza; and from the AVF, Dr. Jayanti Ravi and Mr. Srinivasamurthy. Dr. Seetharaman was also present.

One member of the group brought to the notice of the GB that although he had attended a meeting with them in November 2021, none of the points and exchanges that happened in that GB meeting were reflected in the published MoM. He then described how he received calls of distress from the Youth Center in Auroville on the night of 4 – 5 December 2021 with the youth, including some of his family members, being intimidated by the police and JCBs.

He further described the events of 9 December 2021, with drunken men, first at the Youth Center, later at Darkali, and the trauma it has left on the community. He emphasized that everyone in Auroville is of a single mind when it comes to the purpose of Auroville and building of the city, but the way it was being carried out was contrary to the spirit of the Charter and also the Auroville Foundation Act. The Auroville Foundation Act was passed to nurture and enable Auroville to grow, and was thus deliberately not detailed. This fact was being misused by the present administration to undertake actions that are in contravention to the intent of the Act. He asked for a temporary moratorium for the community to work out the issues.

The second member described being in attendance in the Parliament on the day the bill for the Act was presented; he read out part of the speech of the then Minister of Education Mr. P. Shiv Shankar to elucidate the spirit and aim of the Act. He expressed his distress at the way the present office of the Secretary was functioning in complete contradiction to this. He shared how he had worked with Dr. Kireet Joshi on the bill which became the Auroville Foundation Act and how Dr. Joshi would have been shocked at how this was being misused, creating conflicts with violence and coercion.

The next member began by saying that next month it will be 50 years that she had a Darshan of Mother in Pondicherry, later coming to Auroville in 1978. She said it was difficult to understand how the GB could conclude that Auroville is a failure or has not achieved enough when you look at the variety and depth of work that has been accomplished here. Also, that the weight and support being given by the Secretary to the views of some people in Auroville is skewing the outcomes.

The fourth member questioned the GB report of November 2021 where the members state that Auroville is stagnating when the Prime Minister and the Home Minister of the country have stated that Auroville is a beacon for the world. Also, it should be noted that Aurovilians are not here to do favours for others, but to contribute to the collaborative effort and will take this into account. The GB made statements about undertak economic activities to generate livelihood but to change human nature itself, guided by the philosophy of Sri Aurobindo. The exemplary work done in the listed fields are an output of this experiment in human unity and this has been recognized by the Government of India.

The present group supported by Dr. Jayanti Ravi, that is purporting to fast-track the development of the city by building a “road” are the ones who have consistently blocked the development of key social and physical infrastructure over the last 30 years.

Also, Dr. Jayanti Ravi has been deepening differences of opinions to create factions within the community rather than using her office to enable collaboration in building the city.

She contested the public statement of Dr. J. Ravi that she has had over 50 consultative meetings with the community and has integrated the inputs in the proposal for the crown road as there are no published minutes of these said meetings with the record of the verbal agreements arrived at.

Based on this, she asked for an independent review of Dr. J. Ravi’s decisions. In the absence of a DPR for the Crown Road in the public domain with technical, physical, social and environmental studies, including tender documents, persons requesting information are vilified and intimidated by the factions supporting Dr. Ravi.

The fifth member shared his expertise in the field of planning and GIS, he listed the agencies and organizations that he and other experts work with on planning, both within and without Auroville. When Dr. B V Doshi was the chairperson of the TDC, studies were done for the development of township but they have all been set aside and work that is being carried out is without any drawings showing the technical details such as traffic on roads or social and environmental studies that evaluate the impact of the road. Cities are one of the major developmental challenges globally today with noise, pollution, traffic jams, speculative development, urban rural interface, and disasters like floods leading to loss of life and property. Auroville cannot and should not undertake development as elsewhere, becoming part of the problem. Auroville is, and should continue to be, an experimental laboratory where we should be working towards finding solutions to these urban problems.

The first member of the group clarified to the Chairman that the Secretary was acting on the directives of the Government of India. The project had to be fast-tracked as there was a need to move on with the development of the project. He and the other members of the GB were supportive of a collaborative effort and will take this into account.

The first member of the group clarified to the Chairman that the request for the moratorium was not for an indefinite period but only to give the required time to the process that was actively going on in the community between the planners, residents and architects (Dreamweaving). He hoped that the statements of the Chairman on collaboration and inclusive planning and development would be reflected in the minutes of the GB so that the residents of Auroville could take comfort that their concerns had been heard.

RAM – TO DISCUSS A SELECTION PROCESS PROPOSAL AND PROCEED TO A RAD

Dear Residents, this is to inform you that the Selection Process Review Task Force (SPRTF) is ready to present a revised selection process proposal to the community. This task force was appointed from the general community to consider the “Participatory Working Groups & the Selection Process of their members 2020” (PWG 2020), the Inquiry Task Force report, and the previously submitted proposals for selection process, and to propose an alternative method. A proposal that would incorporate the best of all of them into something that the community could agree upon.

As this updated selection procedure should be ratified by the residents, the Auroville Council would like to initiate a decision-making process (RAD). Read the proposal.

With regards, The Auroville Council

FROM THE ENTRY SERVICE – ES # 118

Dated: 29-01-2022

The following people have been recommended by the Entry Board to join our community. CONGRATULATIONS TO THE AWARD WINNERS
Of The Auroville Film Festival 2022!

International category of “films that develop the theme of human unity”

• Wisdom Award: A Letter From India by Naveed Mulki & Shaktiraj Singh Jadeja

A small diverse village of 30000 in southwest India demonstrates its ability to live a harmonious existence. The film is shot in b&w with soft gentle awareness that brings a rich vibration to the viewers.

• Cinema Paradiso Awards

  ◦ In Your Eyes by Barak Heymann

A reflection of real, authentic, spontaneous ‘human unity’ is inevitably the internet, the world wide web, so to say… where all identities mingle, they can relate to each other, have access to each other… without judgement there can be understanding and acceptance. The ‘Web Stars’ or the internet influencers are in that sense true icons of human unity… as beautifully portrayed in the film ‘In Your Eyes’…. In Israel, those from social margins, outside the mainstream, find a ground, a voice and a huge following, they find love and connection.

  ◦ White Eye by Tomer Shushan

A young Israeli man comes across his stolen bicycle. Seeking justice he contacts the authorities. What develops changes his perception dramatically, compassion comes to the foreground too late.

• Jury Award: Baluji by Marie – Cécile Embleton

If there is an inspiration, a lesson in indefatigable spirit, it is in the film ‘Baluji’…. ‘Baluji’ also takes us into a sweet journey… as beautifully portrayed in the film ‘In Your Eyes’… In Israel, those from social margins, outside the mainstream, find a ground, a voice and a huge following, they find love and connection.

Category of “films made by Aurovilians, bioregion residents and guests of Auroville”

• Cinema Paradiso Award: Learning from the Intangible by Alessandra Silver

The Cinema Paradiso award under the category of Auroville films at the 2022 Auroville Film Festival is given to ‘Learning from the Intangible’ by Alessandra Silver. It is a film that truly captures the essence of an Aurovillian educational experience for children, creating space and opportunities to learn and expand their knowledge and experiential horizons. The “Free Progress” pedagogy and curriculum are embedded in a value system that enables “integral education” grounded in reality, culture, and virtues essential for the sustenance of the human and ecological spirit. The voices of parents and children in Auroville make the “intangible” actually “tangible”, and the film becomes a medium of inspiring educators and parents to engage with a process that will build a generation of citizens who would actualise “the psychic being”. The film is shot and edited to make for lived storytelling. As India moves forward to implement the New Education Policy 2020, this documentary can sensitise and inspire educational policymaking and practice to transform education. The words “nothing can be taught” stay with you beyond the 85-minute film.

• Special Motivation Award: Lockdown – 48 Athisayam by Yatra Srinivassan

Special Motivation award under the category of Auroville films at the 2022 Auroville Film Festival goes to ‘Lockdown – 48 Athisayam’ by Yatra Srinivassan. A satirical take on life within four walls, this film calls for public viewing on a significant day to day experience with male alcoholism and marital relations. This short film uses language and actions to open a window into the reality of life on the peripheries of Auroville.

• Wisdom Award: Conversations on Death by Serena Aurora

The Wisdom award under the category of Auroville films at the 2022 Auroville Film Festival is given to ‘Conversations on Death’ with Aurovilians by Serena Aurora and Danielle de Diesbach. A thought-provoking exposition, the film reflects on the meaning of death, and ‘death in Auroville’. A wide gamut of ideas is brought forth including the conquest of death “where each cell of our body will have to become conscious.” Pithy words by Sri Aurobindo and The Mother punctuate Danielle de Diesbach’s exploration as she sets out to interview Aurovilians, young and old. The perspectives of the interviewees along with the meditative words and music offer an understanding that frees you from the fear and apprehension of death. “The material or physical causes of death are not its sole or its true cause: its true inmost reason is the spiritual necessity for the evolution of a new being.” The film is aurally and visually orchestrated with substance and meaning, drawing ‘Death’, typically considered a ‘dark’ subject, into the light.

• Jury Award: En Udambu (My Body) by Earthing Koushalya

The Jury award under the category of Auroville films at the 2022 Auroville Film Festival is given to ‘En Udambu (My Body)’ by Earthing Koushalya. A socially sensitive film on the use of online social media as a medium of sexual violence against women, this is a powerful representation of women reclaiming their bodies as their own, against this violation. The protagonist uses the same online space to challenge the male toxic behaviour that violates her privacy, with a counter-strategy in which her body becomes a weapon of resistance and breaks the barriers of social stigma and shame that she is threatened by. The private and public lens on ‘My Body’ merge in the depiction of love and pride that a woman has for her body, against the fear she is expected to live with, to protect her body. Subtle lighting and music combine to bring the actors’ narrative alive, with scope for more.

• Mongbra Award: Pre-Monsoon by Jonak Chakrabartii

The Mongbra award under the category of Auroville films at the 2022 Auroville Film Festival is given to ‘Pre-Monsoon’ by Jonak Chakrabartii. A fun film with a youthful perspective… sometimes abstract, sometimes real…in Auroville. Awarded for its creative and experimental take on memories and growing up, relationships with the self and others, friendships and dreams… magnifying life with curiosity and love. A scientist, a detective and an experiment in an unsuspecting town, truly this is what an Aurovillian journey can be. Free of any ‘isms’, finding your own paths with freedom and a spirit of unlearning and being one with nature and its surprises. The scripting, camerawork and editing make the film engaging, but warrant a shorter and tighter film.

Here are the statistics at the closing of AVFF 2022: 1260 viewers have tuned in to the event, and 8520 “Sales” (all films are free) we’re made. These led to 2990 streams, mostly from here in Asia (2530), followed by Europe (246), North America (110) and Australia (49).

OPENING NOWANA IN AUROMODELE
(Previous Roma’s Kitchen)

Dear Community, we are planning to officially open Nowana, the Korean restaurant in Auromodele Community, on Saturday, 29 January, at 6pm. Please come and enjoy.

With regards,
Nowana team
On 21st & 22nd January the Dreamweaving architects met for their first formal session together, with two members of Vastu Shilpa Consultants (Doshi’s office) joining over Zoom. The sessions started with an introduction from Mona & David. Among other things, they stressed that the Dreamweaving process will not create the Detailed Development Plan for the Crown but will provide initial inspiration from Auroville architects. The Vastu Shilpa Consultants have been approached to take up the task of DDP preparation. An FAQ is being worked on and will be published on Auronet.

This was followed by presentations on the Auroville Economy and on City Form and Bioclimatic Design, which you can watch on the AV Radio Youtube channel.

Then the 18 participating architects shared their emerging ideas, inspirations and designs for the Crown in 11 presentations. After each presentation, there was positive feedback on what others felt useful or inspiring, highlighting elements they would ‘steal’ and try to incorporate into their own work over the next 2 weeks.

The presentations drew from a wide range of resources and explored aspects from the ‘DNA of the Galaxy Vision’ to rainwater capture, storage and percolation, to analysis of functional needs and mobility opportunities in relation to the Masterplan: Perspective 2025 on and beyond the Crown.

Meanwhile, on 26th January, the randomly selected community members (approx. 12-15) who will be part of the next stages of the Dreamweaving process and give inputs, will meet for the first time to be briefed about the process. The next Dreamweaving event, on 4th & 5th February, will meet for the first time to be briefed about the next stages of the Dreamweaving process and give inputs, which will be live-streamed for the community and also include the participation of architectural peers, focus groups representing diverse perspectives, technical and analytical inputs and the randomly selected citizens group.

Simultaneously, some events and spaces are taking shape, which are offered by the community, inspired by the Dreamweaving process. These and the resources generated will also be offered to the Dreamweavers but without expectations attached. Pass by the ‘DW Col-lab Desk’ outside Solar Kitchen on Monday, Wednesday & Friday lunch times this week to find out more and look out for announcements on Auronet.

Finally, after an appeal was sent out to assist with the funding of the Dreamweaving exercise, AVI USA generously offered 2000 USD to cover the costs of logistics, venue and food for the participants, while within the community itself almost two lakhs rupees have been donated.

It is yet another indication that there is immense support and goodwill for this process for which we express our deep gratitude.

THE ARTS

ADISHAKTI THEATER FESTIVAL IN AUROVILLE

Dear Auroville Community and Performing Art lovers, this is to bring you the wonderful and early news that Adishakti Laboratory for Theater Art Research, situated near Hope community, would like to present a five day Theater Festival between the 23rd and 27th of March 2022, at the Sri Aurobindo Auditorium, Bharat Nivas.

The festival would be Adishakti’s offering towards Sri Aurobindo’s 150th Birth Anniversary as well as their participation towards Bharat Nivas’ 50th Anniversary. I am sure that this kind of festival has not happened in a long time in Auroville and so is definitely worth our anticipation.

Many of us may have had the privilege to watch Adishakti’s high energy, high quality and delightful shows over the last 25 years, be it at Adishakti’s own performance spaces or at the Sri Aurobindo Auditorium. This March they will be presenting a retrospective of their work through five different performances: Impressions of Bhima, Brhannala, Nidravatvatvam, Bali, Bhoomi

All five plays are explorations or interpretations of episodes and characters from either the Ramayana or the Mahabharata. I will share the details about the plays in March.

Friends, I have offered to coordinate this festival in my individual capacity and I am writing this note to let you know that to cover the cost of hosting this event I will definitely need your help. Right now the budget is being prepared and I will be able to share information on this topic soon. Thank you in advance for your support.

Project Brief: In the Land of Majestic Giants

This installation focuses on mountains and works to bring out the sheer beauty, spirit and immense energy that one can sense on these terrains. It presents photographic visuals from some of the rarely visited valleys and passes from Himachal Pradesh. The aim is to give a visual experience of the vastness of the Himalayan ranges along with its varying terrain and diverse landscape below and above the tree line, glaciers, grassy hills and snow-capped mountains. It tries to bring out my perspective and journey with these majestic beings. Moreover, it also tries to highlight some of the treks and travels done by a small group of Aurovilians in these remote, and harsh conditioned landscapes.

AUROVILLE RADIO TV NEEDS YOUR HELP!
We are happy to announce that the Auroville-RadioTv is going to move to the first floor of the Archives building.
The new location having more potential for growth, we have re-think the studio taking into consideration the various needs of the community to become a full flesh recording studio in the next future. The project is therefore divided into two phases.
The first phase will allow the radio to shift its regular work without major interruption. It is expected to be finished by March, thanks to a great team and a generous donor. However, our budget is short of 5 Lakhs to finish in a timely manner.
We appeal to you to help this essential service of Auroville that have adapted to the pandemic constraints by streaming our events and meetings (with more than 15k views in the last month only) despite a very low budget and a lack of manpower.
We are counting on your support to continue serving the community at our best. Please donate!
Financial account number 251369, specify “Donation for relocation – Phase 1”. In addition, we are also proud to say that the project is realized with the help of Auroville units only!

Thank you!

MEDIA AND INFORMATION

Often in Auroville we receive mail from RAS urging us to vote. Voting should give people their right to choose what is best for them and for society. But the reality is that most people in Auroville don’t have enough information about what they are voting for, and that’s why our voting system doesn’t work.

Who is responsible in a society like Auroville, for the lack of information or incomplete and misleading information? Well, all of Auroville media is responsible. The media in Auroville are OutreachMedia, AurovilleRadio, TubeThamb, New&Notes, Massbulletin, and Auroville Today. And none of these media has been able so far to provide true and neutral information to the people of Auroville and to the world about what is actually going on these days and why. Nobody has taken the initiative to investigate the nature of this matter, to interview individuals involved in it and to allow freedom of expression (from both sides) for the truth to emerge.

All we’ve got is merely one sided propaganda. I’m sorry to say this but what I saw on YouTube by Auroville media so far was only biased and incomplete information. Incomplete information can be more misleading than a lie. Media information should be kept always neutral, true and professional. Unfortunately, restriction on freedom of speech is prevalent in Auroville. The attitude is “if you can’t agree with me, then we will not let you speak”. Media in Auroville is censoring what kind of stories see the light of the day. This is the kind of censorship practiced by the very same media people who are now claiming to fight for freedom of speech.

I find it highly contradictory that Auroville calls for people to vote when all information spread around is one sided. How are people going to truly vote or not vote if information is kept controlled and freedom of speech is censored? The lack of proper neutral media and freedom of expression is a reflection of our society. In fact it’s true to say that Auroville has no justice system. Our working groups such as FAMc and Council are biased and disfunctional. Things here aren’t sorted according to Auroville ideals, practice of yoga or a minimum of human rights and justice.

In Auroville there is no right or wrong, there is only whom we know and what we agree with. There are lots of injustices inflicted by Aurovillians on Aurovillians, and nothing can be done about it. Not even the police are allowed to intervene. We say that we must solve our issues amongst ourselves, which in reality means that the strongest have it always their way, or the issues remain unresolved for ever. It means that a few families own and rule Auroville while holding wealth and power, and everybody else is here to obey and keep quiet. If this is where Auroville is going, then the experiment is failing significantly.

It was us Aurovillians who called the Foundation in 1988 to protect Auroville from private ownership. And now the same “Aurovillians” are behaving as the landlords of Auroville.

As Aurovillians we have committed ourselves to a level of integrity. And look at us now, how can we live up to our commitments as Aurovillians in this huge sense of inequality and manipulation?

How are we ever going to create a society in line with the highest ideals that Auroville is meant to manifest?

The city is dawning

When Mother called Auroville: “The City the Earth Needs,” she wasn’t joking. We have made jokes. Through Her, the President of USA and the Premier of the Soviet Union agreed to build an international city for peace and human unity in India to offset the possibility of a nuclear holocaust. When Kennedy was assassinated and Khruushchev fired, she turned to the United Nations. They refused, but UNESCO passed a resolution that all nations should support the development of Auroville. They also sponsored two young people from every country to come to India and inaugurate Auroville. The nuclear holocaust did not happen and the Berlin Wall came down. Today World War III is taking the form of a “Plandemic.” Vaccines are bio-weapons. Fear, threat of death, and the loss of freedom are consuming populations, including us.

The Mother has the Dream, and each of us came here with our dreams. They can be woven together. They must be woven together to come true. Now, because we have been shocked awake by two years of lockdown and the violence of December in Humanity’s “City”, we know what to do.

Thanks to Bhaga and Gilles, we have two volumes of direct messages by the Mother on how to build Auroville. She said “Stop lying”, “Truth or the abyss!”

The dream weavers are at work. Can’t we collaborate to build the “City the Earth Needs?”

CLIMATE AND US

Protecting landscapes, biodiversity will be key in 2022

As we usher in the New Year, and the government’s policies on the environment are carried over for debate in 2022, landscapes must be seen beyond their utility for the economy. While reforms in forest governance may be welcome, are we managing to strike a balance between diversification of natural forests and plantation efforts? It has been an eventful year for the environment sector in India. Not only because the environment ministry launched large scale reforms to rationalise the current economic needs of the country but also because India took an important stand on behalf of the Global South at the Glasgow climate change negotiations (COP 26) last month.

In the past decades we saw increased toxification of our land, water, air and food, and realised what it does to our health. It is part of the economic growth story as we know it. We saw repeated conflicts over the tension between financial capital and other forms, such as natural, cultural and social capital. The resolution is often flawed because public institutions that are required to make decisions have been progressively weakened and disabled.

These 30 years have taught us that the apparent tension between money and life is superficial. If you dig a little deeper you find that we cannot ensure sustainable growth unless it is affordable and inclusive. We know that rivers cannot be cleaned without affordable sanitation for all; we cannot have blue skies and clear lungs without mobility systems that move people and not vehicles. We also know today that investment in natural capital — trees and water — will help build the resilience we need in the climate-risked world. This is how India needs to reinvent its growth story; it has to be based on the needs of all and not just a few; it has to protect the environment because that is the survival base for life. It cannot be a matter of either-or.

The UN Human Rights council on the Environment

According to the UN, Human Rights Council a clean, healthy and sustainable environment is an universal right (October 2021). The UNEP executive passed a resolution on the right to a clean environment. This right was first proposed in the 1972 Stockholm Declaration. Over 13,000 civil society organisations and indigenous peoples’ groups, more than 90,000 children worldwide, the Global Alliance of National Human Rights Institutions and private sector stakeholders have campaigned relentlessly for the right since. The UNEP resolution emphasises “the rights to life, liberty and security of human rights defenders working in environmental matters: they are subject to constant physical attacks, detentions, arrests, legal action and smear campaigns. Some 200 environmental defenders have been murdered in 2020 alone.” UNEP would deepen its commitment to protecting and promoting environmental human rights defenders. It is hoped the resolution emboldens governments, legislators, courts and citizen groups in pursuing the Common Agenda for renewed solidarity. This agenda was presented last month by UN Secretary-General Antonio Guterres who said: “Let no one be left behind, as we forge a healthier planet with less conflict and more space for youth to be heard.”

The State of the Indian Environment

India is the world’s second most polluted country. All of India’s 1.4 billion people live in areas where the annual average particulate pollution level exceeds the WHO guideline. Ninety-four percent live in areas where it exceeds India’s own air quality standard. Particulate pollution has increased by 22% since 1998, cutting 1.3 years off the life of the average resident over those years.

A quarter of India’s population is exposed to pollution levels not seen in any other country, with 248 million residents of northern India on track to lose more than 8 years of life expectancy if pollution levels persist. Lucknow has the highest level of pollution in the country: 13 times greater than the WHO guideline. Residents of Lucknow stand to lose 12.1 years of life expectancy if pollution persists.

The Western Ghats, a biodiversity hotspot, are in dire need of protection as several developmental projects are queued up, threatening the fragile ecosystem and encroachment of forest land goes unchallenged. States have consistently opposed protection measures, as they cannot find a balance between saving livelihoods and protecting ecology. However, the dangers of destroying this ecosystem in times of climate crisis have risen to new levels. Floods, droughts, landslides, heatwaves and extreme weather events affect the economy directly. Will states accept that the climate crisis is a reality? Instead of delaying the decision-making process, can they devise more decisive climate-proofing actions to save the valuable Western Ghats and thereby the entire region housing over 20 crore people?

Melting Himalayan glaciers. Glaciers in the Himalayas are melting at an exceptional rate because of global warming, threatening the water supply of millions of people in Asia, according to a study published on Monday by the Wadia Institute of Himalayan Geology. They found that the Himalayan glaciers have lost ice ten times more quickly over the last few decades than on average since the last major glacier expansion 400-700 years ago, a period known as the Little Ice Age. The study shows that Himalayan glaciers are shrinking far more rapidly than glaciers in other parts of the world. A team led by researchers at the University of Leeds, UK, made a reconstruction of the size and ice surfaces of 14,798 Himalayan glaciers during the Little Ice Age. They calculated that the glaciers have lost around 40 per cent of their area -shrinking from a peak of 28,000 square kilometres (km2) to around 19,600 km2 today. During that period they have lost between 390 cubic kilometres (km3) and 586 km3 of ice. The water released through that melting has raised sea levels across the world by between 0.92-1.38 millimetres. “This acceleration in the rate of loss has only emerged within the last few decades, and coincides with human-induced climate change,” the authors said. The Himalayan mountain range, is home to the world’s third-largest amount of glacier ice, after Antarctica and the Arctic and is often referred to as ‘the Third Pole’. The acceleration of melting of glaciers has serious implications for hundreds of millions of people who depend on Asia’s major river systems for food and energy, including the Brahmaputra, Ganges and Indus.

KAPHA IN WINTER:
ENHANCING STRENGTH AND PROTECTION

Winter is the cold season where Kapha dosha naturally accumulates in the body to protect us from any cold or dryness in the air. Kapha is also the energy behind our immunity that reinforces our strength, resistance (the effort to fight against hostile environment or viruses) and endurance with a jolly, happy, optimistic mood. That is where the prevention focuses on and helps us not to catch any virus, viral fever, cold, cough or any other ailments.

The Ayurvedic Daily Routine as preventive or healing in case of winter ailments highlights:

1. Getting up before 6am (Kapha time is 6-10am. When Kapha is imbalanced in body and mind it is more difficult to get up in the morning, feeling of stagnation, abdominal heaviness, it might give a feeling of laziness, melancholy or depression)
2. Early morning after brushing the teeth and scrapping the tongue, drink a big glass of warm water (can add some lemon juice for extra Vitamin C)
3. Light exercise (even if it’s just 15 minutes per day) to wake up and warm up the body or Surya Namaskar and Pranayama (Bhastrika, Kapalbhati, Bhramari – to clear the upper tract from phlegm)
4. Eat every meal warm, cooked and with spices (eg: ginger, turmeric, black pepper, cumin, cinnamon, ajwain, basil, garlic, thyme, rosemary, parsley), food for Kapha is light and easy to digest (eg: veg soup, mung dal soup, rasam…)
5. Avoid Kapha-increasing foods such as dairy products and sugar/sweet food.
   If the digestion feels heavy, take Ginger-Turmeric-Black pepper powders (= Be No1 for digestion) with a sip of warm water after food
6. Drink hot water with ginger and lemon or herbal teas (Tulsi, karpooravali, thyme for the respiratory tract; Mint, chamomile or fennel herbal tea for the liver stagnation) or green tea
7. 1tsp of Chyavanprash every day or any source of vitamin C (citrus fruits, amla – the season has started)
8. 2 drops of Anu Tailam (ayurvedic medicated oil) in each nostril in the morning and at bedtime, when there is congestion in the nose and sinuses, light frontal headache)
9. Gargle with hot water, salt and turmeric to clear the throat from mucus and phlegm
10. Steam inhalation with thyme decoction, eucalyptus essential oil
11. Clean the atmosphere with sage fumigation or holy basil vaporization
12. Wash your hands regularly especially before preparing and eating food and before/after the use of the toilet
13. Wear warm clothes, cover the throat, wear socks or slippers indoor
14. In case of fever, headache, cough: stay at home to rest, keep warm by eating/drinking warm, shower with warm water, sunbathe for some minutes, take 1/2tsp of Tulsi, Amla, Cinnamon, Ginger, Turmeric, Black Pepper powders (=Be No3 for immunity) with the lemon juice + honey, 3 times per day before food until feeling better. Eat when appetite manifests and take a light and easy to digest meal (green leafy vegetable soup, sambar, rasam). For fever: Nilavembu decoction (30ml twice a day before food)

CHINESE FIRE CUPPING AND MOXIBUSTION THERAPY

By appointment, Arka Wellness Centre

- Fire cupping (火罐) is an ancient form of therapy of China, in which a local suction is created on the skin by introducing the fire into glass or bamboo cups. Fire cupping is one of the best deep-tissue therapies.

- Moxibustion (艾灸) has been used in China, Japan and Korea for thousands of years. Treatment is done by burning a kind of Chinese medicinal herb, called Moxa or Mugwort, over a specific acupuncture point. The radiant heat stimulates the points and spread its potent effect to the whole body along the “Qi” channels (meridians).

Both therapies are based on traditional Chinese meridian system and can release one’s accumulated toxin from deep inside the body, activate one’s blood circulation to dissipate blood stasis as well as improves one’s immune system, with good efficiency in acute and chronic internal organ disorders such as pain, stiffness, fever, chill, cough, wheeze, nausea, etc…

About our healing spaces:

Energy therapy: Fusion of deep guided relaxation, visualisation, reiki, pranic healing, and foot & cranial reflexology.

Rediscovering the Self-healing power and natural Intelligence of the body: Experiencing the Presence within by quietening the thought process and contacting the body.

Journey to the memory of the body: Journey through the trauma memories, emotional blockages and belief systems in order to release and heal these traumas, by getting aware & deprogramming these old believe systems put in place in the past, which keep us from living a very joyful life in the present.

Coaching Session: “L’Accompagnement en Présence”

Seance D’accompagnement En Présence – 1h30-
Formée à l’Accompagnement en Présence depuis 2017, je vous propose mon expérience de Praticienne. Chaque séance est une invitation à laisser venir en vous les réponses dévoilées par vos sensations corporelles. Ce processus de focusing est simple, il vous amène exactement à l’endroit du corps qui a besoin d’être entendu.

Coaching: Focussing on Presence

Trained in the coaching method “l’Accompagnement en Présence” since 2017, I offer you my experience as a practitioner. Each session is an invitation to let the answers get revealed by the bodily sensations you are experiencing. This focusing process is simple, it brings you exactly to the place of the body that needs to be.

Shiatsu: The Quantum Shiatsu practised by Ulrike Urvasi for over 20 years follows an understanding which is multi-dimensional and holistic, reminds of and activates the self-healing forces in each one of us.

Essenian Healing: Essenian treatments are a therapeutic approach that uses the healing power of light and sound as well as the massage of energy points with the aim of maintaining or restoring a harmonious balance between body, soul and spirit. The healing acts by restoring the flow of energy that has been disrupted by stress, illness, negative thought forms and the difficulties of everyday life.

Shamballa Reiki: Pierre is offering treatments for those who are open to using the Universal Energy, we call Reiki, to keep us aligned during the immense shift we are all going through. In his observation “the cosmic clock is turning; the Universal Energy remains the same”.

Self Healing based on Craniosacral therapy: Self Healing sessions offered by Kirtan are a non-medical healing approach based on Craniosacral Therapy. It is a way for you to experience your True Self in a profoundly deep, practical, and lasting way, by attuning you to your own blueprint for health. It calls forth your natural re-alignment, resonance and healing forces.

PRANIC NOURISHMENT

Open talk with “Pranic World Festival” founder & director Nicolas Pilartz

4 February, 2022, 4pm
Venue – ARA – Petite Ferme Auroville
google maps link

Breatharian-ism. A radical concept for most people. Is it possible? How does it work? How does it connect to the ideas of Sri Aurobindo, and human evolution/potential/transformation?

There is a growing global movement of people who begin to “nourish” themselves in ways which do not include solid food. These ideas enter the mainstream language and knowledge forgotten is being resurrected. In many wisdom traditions, the world over – there are human beings and lineages who have progressed towards eating less and also to not at all. Is this a coincidence?

This talk is an opportunity for:

• those who have heard about pranic life-style, would like to understand it better, and to know the difference between pranic living and fasting.
• seek a change in regards to one’s eating habits & would like to understand the process of alternative energy cultivation; its effects on body, emotions & mind.
• talk about the reasons to go on in this path, the benefits, as well as the difficulties, and how to stay safe.
• to receive insights from a person walking this path since 2012; about advantages & opportunities of pranic lifestyle, which go way beyond fasting, and awaits humanity.

This talk will be followed by a 9-day Pranic initiation & process live & online, from 5 to 13 February, (link).

Director: Mira NAIR, India, 2001

With: Naseeruddin Shah, Lillete Dubey, Shefali Shah, Vijay Raaz, Rajat Kapoor

Overview: An Indian family, the Vermaas, is preparing to celebrate the wedding of their daughter Aditi according to tradition. From all over the world, hundreds of guests are invited. Preparations are going well, but incidents and revelations will spice up the wedding... Monsoon Wedding is a film with many flavours of Bollywood yet subtle and scintillating in its own unique way. Directed by Indian-Ugandan-American Mira Nair, the film exposes and reveals several undercurrents of emerging middle classes in urban India with probing frankness rarely, if ever, seen in Indian cinema. And presents the events and characters through many eyes and many lenses, with humour, subtlety, and a certain dramatic gusto and candour, with touch upon the audience what is universal and unifying. Mira Nair was the second Indian director to be awarded the Golden Lion at the Venice Film Festival after Satyajit Ray for Aparajito/The Unvanquished. It was also nominated for a Golden Globe for Best Foreign Language Film.

Introduced by Prof. Sehdev Kumar as part of the Aurofilm Series, “International Film Classics and the Human Condition”. All are invited to stay for a short discussion and comments after the screening of the film.

The brain that changes itself

Film only in French, duration: 70 min

Directed by Mike Sheerin

Norman Doidge opens the doors to a field of research in perpetual evolution. A groundbreaking look at human development and adaptive potential. Like an Oliver Sacks, the Canadian psychiatrist Norman Doidge explains in a clear and entertaining way the neuronal plasticity and the adaptability of the brain. Intriguing clinical stories serve as a starting point for this dive into the folds of the brain. Delivering with great clarity new knowledge on the structural and functional reorganization capacities of the brain, Norman Doidge opens the doors to a field of research in perpetual evolution, like the brain itself. This documentary is an adaptation of the eponymous book by the same Norman Doidge (original title: The brain that changes itself). Translated into French in 2008 and published by Belfond, this book topped sales in Canada and appeared on the New York Times bestseller list.
The eternal day: the soul's choice and the supreme consummation.

Duration: 46 min.

God’s everlasting day surrounds Savitri and she sees all Nature marvelous and faultless. Above her rise level after level of higher worlds. Into those heights her soul soars up like a bird in spiral flight. Drowned in a sea of splendor and bliss, she turns and sees the living source of their charm and delight, the glorious godhead, and recognises him as the One whom she faced as Death and Night. The two look at each other, Soul seeing Soul.

The divine Being invites Savitri to heaven: Ascend, O soul, into thy blissful home... / O immortal, to felicity arise...” (p.685) But Savitri refuses the offer: I climb not to thy everlasting Day, / Even as I have shunned thy eternal Night. / To me who turn not from thy terrestrial Way, / Give back the other self my nature asks... / I know that I can lift man’s soul to God, / I know that he can bring the Immortal down. (p.685, 686, 687)

The glorious godhead speaks once more about all the imperfection on earth and tempts Savitri: O flame, withdraw into thy luminous self. / Or else return to thy original might... / Be one with the infinite and starry soul... / For thou art the World-Mother and the Bride... / Receive him into boundless Savitri, / Lose thyself into infinite Satyavan...” (p.691, 692)

Again, Savitri defies the alluring voice of the radiant God and sticks to her mission to save the world and man: “In vain thou temptst with solitary bliss / Two spirits saved out of a suffering world; / My soul and his indissolubly linked / In the one task for which our lives were born, / To raise the world to God in deathless Light, / To bring God down to the world on earth we came, / To change the earthly life to life divine. / I keep my will to save the world and man; / Even the charm of thy alluring voice, / O blissful Godhead, cannot seize and snare. / I sacrifice not earth to happier worlds... / Since God has made earth, earth must make in her God; / What hides within her breast she must reveal.” (p.692, 693)

After this, the reply comes that Savitri is the force of the Divine, its will and voice, and that she can stamp her will on Time from the spiritual heights: “O living power of the incarnate Word... / Thou art my vision and my will and voice.... / But if thou wilt not wait for Time and God, / Do then thy work and force thy will on Fate... / Ascend, O soul, into thy timeless self; / Choose destiny’s curve and stamp thy will on Time.” (p.693, 694, 695)

And then, absolved from visions’ and thoughts’ grip, the founded spheres and forms get loose and heaven worlds vanish in spiritual light. Savitri finds herself in spaceless orbits and lives fulfilled in an ineffable world with energy of the triune Infinite: In a measureless Reality she dwelt, / A rapture and a bliss within. / To me who turn not from thy terrestrial Way, / Give back the other self my nature asks... / I know that I can lift man’s soul to God, / I know that he can bring the Immortal down. (p.695)

And a voice cries: Choose, spirit, thy supreme choice not given again... (p.696)

Savitri asks the Lord to give her for the soul of men on earth Divine blessings of peace, calmness, joy, oneness, energy, deep love and sweetnessness: “Thy peace, O Lord, a boon within to keep / Amid the roar and ruin of wild Time / For the magnificent soul of man on earth. / Thy calm, O Lord, that bears thy hands of joy... / Thy oneness, Lord, in many approaching hearts, / My sweet infinity of thy numberless souls... / Thy energy, Lord, to seize on woman and man... / Thy embrace which rends the living knot of pain, / Thy joy, O Lord, in which all creatures breathe, / Thy magic flowing waters of deep love, / Thy sweetness give to me for earth and men.” (p.695, 696)

After a silence, a still blissful Voice is heard: “O beautiful body of the incarnate Word, / Thy thoughts are mine, I have spoken with thy voice. / My will is thine, what thou hast chosen I choose: / All thou hast asked I give to earth and men... / Now will I do in thee my marvelous works...” (p.698) Because Savitri chooses to share earth’s struggle and pain and leaks in pity over earth-bound men, she joins the Supreme Power of Work in Time and will raise the Earth-Soul to Light and bring down God into the lives of men. The great Voice praises Savitri’s wonderful excellences and talks about her future work with the Supreme: “For ever love, O beautiful slave of God! / O lasso of my rapture’s widening noose, / Become my cord of universal love... / Built is the golden tower, the flame-child born.” (p.702) Savitri, the luminous Savitri, / I sent you forth of old beneath the stars, / A dual power of God in an ignorant world... / Bringing down God to the insentient globe, / Lifting earth-beings to immortality.” (p.702) The earth shall be stirred with sublime impulses and humanity shall awaken to its deeper self.

The Soul of Savitri plunges down through unseen worlds amidst joyful voices like a sinking star. She holds the Soul of Satyavan within her breast.

From a timeless plane that watches Time, a Spirit gazes out upon destiny with a glance of undying Love. A power leaned down, a happiness found its home. / Over wide earth brooded the infinite bliss. (p.712)

A meditative film of Huta’s paintings illustrating passages from Savitri read by The Mother and accompanied by her own organ music which can connect us to the Divine Presence within and lead us towards the spiritual truth and the New Consciousness.

Last Chance to See: Northern White Rhino

2009/ 59 minutes / Tim Green

Thankfully, lessons have been learned from the extinction that might mean the black rhino will not be allowed to dwindle into extinction. A relocation project for some of the remaining individuals is underway in Kenya. Rhino from Nairobi National Park are released into a 90,000 hectare conservancy, and although the area is fenced and protected, it’s the closest the rhinos can get to a wild existence. Radio transmitters fitted into the relocated rhinos’ horns allow the rangers to track the rhinos more easily in the vast conservancy. Sadly, the Northern White Rhino has been officially declared extinct.
