The Upanishads are the creation of a revelatory and intuitive mind and its illumined experience, and all their substance, structure, phrase, imagery, movement are determined by and stamped with this original character. These supreme and all-embracing truths, these visions of oneness and self and a universal divine being are cast into brief and monumental phrases which bring them at once before the soul’s eye and make them real and imperative to its aspiration and experience or are couched in poetic sentences full of revealing power and suggestive thought-color that discover a whole infinite through a finite image. The One is there revealed, but also disclosed the many aspects, and each is given its whole significance by the amplitude of the expression and finds as if in a spontaneous self-discovery its place and its connection by the illuminating justness of each word and all the phrase. The largest metaphysical truths and the subtlest subtleties of psychological experience are taken up into the inspired movement and made at once precise to the seeing mind and loaded with unending suggestion to the discovering spirit. There are separate phrases, single couplets, brief passages which contain each in itself the substance of a vast philosophy and yet each is only thrown out as a side, an aspect, a portion of the infinite self-knowledge. All here is a packed and pregnant and yet perfectly lucid and luminous brevity and an immeasurable completeness. A thought of this kind cannot follow the tardy, careful and diffuse development of the logical intelligence. The passage, the sentence, the couplet, the line, even the half line follows the one that precedes with a certain interval full of an unexpressed thought, an echoing silence between them, a thought which is carried in the total suggestion and implied in the step itself, but which the mind is left to work out for its own profit, and these intervals of pregnant silence are large, the steps of this thought are like the paces of a Titan striding from rock to distant rock across infinite waters. There is a perfect totality, a comprehensive connection of harmonious parts in the structure of each Upanishad; but it is done in the way of a mind that sees masses of truth at a time and stops to bring only the needed word out of a filled silence. The rhythm in verse or cadenced prose corresponds to the sculpture of the thought and the phrase. The metrical forms of the Upanishads are made up of four half lines each clearly cut, the lines mostly complete in themselves and integral in sense, the half lines presenting two thoughts or distinct parts of a thought that are wedded to and complete each other, and the sound movement follows a corresponding principle, each step brief and marked off by the distinctness of its pause, full of echoing cadences that remain long vibrating in the inner hearing; each is as if a wave of the infinite that carries in it the whole voice and rumour of the ocean. It is a kind of poetry — word of vision, rhythm of the spirit, — that has not been written before or after.

The imagery of the Upanishads is in large part developed from the type of imagery of the Veda and though very ordinarily it prefers an unveiled clarity of directly illuminative image, not unoften also it uses the same symbols in a way that is closely akin to the spirit and to the less technical part of the method of the older symbolism. It is to a great extent this element no longer seizureable by our way of thinking that has baffled certain Western scholars and made them cry out that these scriptures are a mixture of the sublimest philosophical speculations with the first awkward stammerings of the child mind of humanity. The Upanishads are not a revolutionary departure from the Vedic mind and its temperament and fundamental ideas, but a continuation and development and to a certain extent an enlarging transformation in the sense of bringing out into open expression all that was held covered in the symbolic Vedic speech as a mystery and a secret. It begins by taking up the imagery and the ritual symbols of the Veda and the Brahmanas and turning them in such a way as to bring out an inner and a mystic sense which will serve as a sort of psychical starting-point for its own more highly evolved and more purely spiritual philosophy. There are a number of passages especially in the prose Upanishads which are entirely of this kind and deal, in a manner recondite, obscure and even unintelligible to the modern understanding, with the psychic sense of ideas then current in the Vedic religious mind, the distinction between the three kinds of Veda, the three worlds and other similar subjects; but, leading as they do in the thought of the Upanishads to deepest spiritual truths, these passages cannot be dismissed as childishly aberrations of the intelligence void of sense or of any discoverable bearing on the higher thought in which they culminate. On the contrary we find that they have a deep enough significance once we can get inside their symbolic meaning. That appears in a psycho-physical passing upward into a psycho-spiritual knowledge for which we would now use more intellectual, less concrete and imaged terms, but which is still valid for those who practise Yoga and rediscover the secrets of our psycho-physical and psycho-spiritual being. Typical passages of this kind of peculiar expression of psychic truths are Ajatashatru’s explanation of sleep and dream or the passages of the Prasna Upanishad on the vital principle and its motions, or those in which the Vedic idea of the struggle between the Gods and the demons is taken up and given its spiritual significance and the Vedic godheads more openly than in Rik and Sama characterised and invoked in their inner function and spiritual power.”

REPORT OF THE FAMC
OVER THE MONTH OF JANUARY 2022
Members: Amy, Angelo, Jonas, Lisa, Marc, Palani, Ranjith, Stephan
Invitee: AVFO Under Secretary Mr. Srinivasamurthy
Guest: Mr. Kalyani (Office of the Secretary, AVF, auditor)
Secretaries: Svenja, Balaji;
FAMC Finance Secretary: Madhan
The FAMC monthly report does not include regular liaison work with other working groups unless there is a final outcome, in which case the items may be reported in the reports of the respective working groups such as the Auroville Town Development Council (ATDC), Working Committee, Housing Board, Land Board, Auroville Council or the Budget Coordination Committee (BCC).
Please bear in mind that this is a report of decisions or events of a certain period and in the meantime changes, progress, or/ and collaboration might have occurred in any given subject.

1. Topics of special concern of the Office of the Secretary, Auroville Foundation (AVFO)
   a. Standardized and Centralised accounting. The FAMC had informed the occupants to vacate by 17 November 2021. Then the FAMC requested the assistance of the Secretary to evict the occupants. The FAMC responded to questions from the Under Secretary regarding the Auroville status of the occupant. The FAMC confirmed the status of the occupant as the Auroville housing asset and has asked again for the Secretary to use her authority as Estate Officer to take action for eviction of the family from the house.
   b. House occupation by non-Aurovillian in Equality community. The FAMC had informed the occupants to vacate by 17 November 2021. Then the FAMC requested the assistance of the Secretary to evict the occupants. The FAMC responded to questions from the Under Secretary regarding the Auroville status of the occupant. The FAMC confirmed the status of the occupant as the Auroville housing asset and has asked again for the Secretary to use her authority as Estate Officer to take action for eviction of the family from the house.
   c. Farm Accounts. The FAMC has met with and clearly informed the Auroville farmers that the consolidation of the farm accounts to be done under Foodlink is compulsory for this financial year 2021-2022, as there is a need to finally bring the farm accounts into the consolidated balance sheet in this financial year.
   d. Continuity of records. The Under Secretary has expressed a necessity that unit and Trust records are properly maintained and are handed over to new executives or the unit accountant or Trust to ensure continuity and availability of records.
   e. 51 crore ‘special’ budget request. The FAMC was verbally informed by the Under Secretary that this special budget, if approved, will not come this financial year.

2. Units and Trusts issues
   a. General.
      i. Afshanah Guest House. A dispute between the executives of the guest house was tabled at the FAMC. The FAMC has asked an outside firm of chartered accountants to audit the guest house accounts. The FAMC is looking for interim executives to take up the guest house responsibilities while the current executives will be suspended for the duration of the audit.
      ii. Handy Market has requested permission to move to and share the UTS office in the Service area. FAMC has written to the executives of Handy Market that as an income-generating entity, it does not qualify to be attributed a place in the Service Hub area. FAMC also wrote to the ATDC requesting its views as the scope of Handy Market, as an income generating unit, does not match the proposed location in the AV service area. The executives accepted the position of the FAMC. ATDC has not replied to the FAMC inquiry.
      iii. Artisana Trust. The FAMC has asked for an update about the restructuring of the Trust as was previously mentioned by the trustees.
      iv. Discipline farm. A complaint from one of the residents of Discipline was made to the AVF office. The FAMC confirmed with the Under Secretary that the matter is being addressed.
      v. Small guesthouses. The FAMC has noted that there is no process for registering new small guest houses. This needs to be handled like activities under umbrella units (ie complete the Online Entity Application with the FAMC). For all the existing small guest houses, the process of regularization needs to be addressed.
      vi. Botanical Garden caretaker units. The FAMC agrees to the request to convert two ‘caretaker’ assets into regular units. As regular housing assets, these assets will need to adhere to the Housing Policy.
   b. Appointment, reappointment or resignation of trustees, unit executives and activity managers.
      Note: changes concerning trustees are approved in collaboration with the Working Committee.
      i. Aureka, a unit under Toujours Mieux Trust. The requested executive resignation of Mr. Robi Leo Trunz could not be accepted at this time as it would leave this large unit with only two executives, Mr. Palani Murugesan and Mr. Aleksandr Sineev. The FAMC has requested that a third executive be proposed.
      iv. Creativity Guest House, a unit under Auroville Service Trust. Executive reappointment of Ms. Sue Lin and Mr. Jussi Geradus Maria Van Rijit. Approved.
      v. Integral World, a unit under ABC Trust. Executive reappointments of Mr. Jurgen Axer, and Mrs. Manisha Munjal; and executive appointments of Ms. Audrey Lanworthy Wallace Taylor, and Mr. Sreevatsa Govindass Ramesh Babu. Approved.
      vi. Shri Arohan, a unit under Artisana Trust. Executive reappointments of Mr. Sanjay Kusale, Ms. Meenal Sanjay Kusale, and Mr. Sreevatsa Govindass Ramesh Babu. Approved.
      vii. City Service, now a unit of Auroville Service Trust. Executive appointments of Mr. E. Rathinam and Mr. Danny Merguei wef 1 April 2021 through 31 August 2022. Approved. A third executive will be appointed at a later time.
   c. New units and activities
      i. Fundraising Consultancy for Auroville Projects, a unit under Auroville Service Trust. Executives are Ms. Sigrid Lindemann and Ms. Tine Neuman. Approved for a one-year trial period.
      ii. Kirtan Spirit, an activity under Auroville Art Service. Manager is Mr. Frederic Le Coent. Approved.

To The Content
ii. Keerthi Repairs & Maintenance, an activity under Auro Small Scale Activities (ASSA). Manager is Mr. Veerappan Velayudham. Approved.

iv. Embodied Ways of Knowing, an activity under ASSA. Manager is Ms. Lili Dreikuhansen. Approved.

v. Smoked Foods, an activity under Auroville Food Activities (AFA). Managers are Ms. Mawile Tonsing, Mr. Jurgen Holst, and Mr. Raphael Kohnen. Approved subject to obtaining the relevant food license.

v. Sound Artisan, an activity under Auroville Art Service. Manager is Mr. Fabien Bontems. Approved.

3. Housing and land issues

a. Demolishing of assets due to Crown Path and other roads. The FAMC has asked the ATDC for information which assets, in their view, will be demolished due to the Crown Path, the Outer Ring Road and the 12 radials. The FAMC has also written to the Office of the Secretary, AVF, the ATDC and the Land Board asking about plans, costs and labour to offset felled trees by planting seedlings. No reply has been received.

b. Housing assets valuation. Stewards of a house in Prarthna have asked for a revaluation of the housing asset after flooding during the monsoon; it appears to have no proper foundation. The FAMC has asked the Housing Service to have the house re-evaluated by the same evaluator. The FAMC also asked the Housing Board to explore providing guidance and details to the evaluators for the evaluation process, to improve methods in future.

c. House repairs. The FAMC has asked the Housing Board to set up a proper repair department.

d. Felicity and Paolo Tommasi lands. A discussion with members of the Land Board and Working Committee took place to decide on the best utilization of the lands and moveable assets at Felicity and created by Paolo Tommasi on Auroville land. No decision was reached.

e. Land stewarding request. A request was received from residents of Arati to become the stewards of the land located between Arati and Soffio. No decision has been taken.

f. Wood sales by the Land Board. The FAMC has asked the Land Board how it accounts for wood sales, considering GST regulations which describe ‘wood in the rough’ (18%) and ‘firewood’ (nil). FAMC will ask a Chrtered Accountant to advise on the category ‘wood in the rough’.

A4A BULLETIN

In this Special February during the 150th Anniversary Year! We are happy to share this rich array of eight inspiring articles from the quarterly land fundraisers’ newsletter for this «Birthday Month» of February https://land.auroville.org/a4a-flier-21st-february-2022-newsletter/

1. Acres For Auroville Flier

The Mother’s guidance is a gift we feel with particular force in February, the month of her birth. And as we celebrate, too, the anniversary of Auroville’s foundation, we remember with warm gratitude the action and generosity of India. As we gather together in aspiration, the ancient invocations continue to inspire us in our progress towards a more luminous future. In English, French & Tamil. https://land.auroville.org/a4a-flier-21st-february-2022/

2. LFAU Letter – 21 February 2022

Auroville is a double-edged undertaking with work to be done in matter and work to be done in consciousness, one’s own and the collective’s. While India and the world are celebrating the 150th birthday anniversary of Sri Aurobindo, it’s appropriate to understand Auroville’s relevance to the realisation of the future he envisioned. In English, French & Tamil. https://land.auroville.org/lfau-letter-21st-february-2022/

3. Auroville Land Consolidation & Fundraising: Historical Perspectives & Milestones

Here, Aryadeep presents the milestones of Auroville’s land consolidation and fundraising, paying tribute to the energy and devotion of so many over the decades for the cause of Auroville’s land. With 10% of the City and over 50% of the Green Belt still missing, the task isn’t over! https://land.auroville.org/land-consolidation-fundraising/

4. Charlie & the History of Aurogreen: Conversations with Suzie

Aurogreen is an Auroville success story! In these conversations between AV pioneers Charlie and Suzie, we get a glimpse into the immense challenges of these early days – and the ingenuity it took to succeed. We are grateful to Charlie for sharing the adventure of Aurogreen’s step-by-step growth, and his 47 years of intensive work building Aurogreen. https://land.auroville.org/charlie-the-history-of-aurogreen/

5. «The Adventure of Auroville Was Calling Me» by Helen

After years of forward-thinking professional work, idealistic service, personal trials, and solo travels in rural Asia, English-born Helen became an Aurovilian in early 2021, “Auroville continues to fascinate me every single day. I feel lucky and inspired to be surrounded by so many people of such diverse backgrounds bound together through their passion to discover new ways to live.” Here’s her inspiring story. https://land.auroville.org/adventure-auroville-calling-me/

6. A Special Offer for New Regular Land Donors: «Matrimandir – the Privilege»

The stream of collaboration for A4A continues with the publication of «Reflections upon Psycho-Spiritual Obstacles on the Journey to the Divine – an Insider’s View» by Dr. Joseph Vrinte, a longtime Aurovilian from The Netherlands. The book is an inquiry into the processes of Integral yoga and integral psychology, as well as Auroville’s raison d’etre and relevance, and sale proceeds go to A4A for land purchase. Joseph has also gifted several copies for land donors via LFAU. https://land.auroville.org/a4a-collaboration-through-books/

LOTS OF LOVE AND GRATITUDE FROM KALOU

Dear lovely people, my children and I would like to thank all the community for their support, for your appreciation and amazing care. Many of you open their hearts with so much love. Without saying any names because, All of you, open their hearts, and care so beautifully, with material, with your words, your love, your spirit, your energies...

A friend helped us financially, lent us some suitcase, some warm clothes, and even proposed to me some gifts from her unit for my family.

We are a Unity, a Humanity, a Community who cares of each other, who help if needed, and with this spirit nothing can take it away, it’s in our heart, in our cells. We are in the service of the divine, and through you, from your acts, your word, your love… the divine mother blessed us.

Thank you for touching my heart so deeply, you all helped us transform this journey into magical beauty. I feel stronger, loving, appreciated, supported and so blessed to open my wings with trust, confidence, to fly to France and come back.

With all my heart I send to all of you so much gratitude, this beautiful quality that you bring into me, even more deeply in my yoga life. This helped me to change the vibration of this journey experience specially after 16 years. Thank you.

On this divine Mother’s birthday, Mother bless us.

Lots of love and gratitude from Kalou, Shayan and Asia
AUROVILLE MATTERS

AMIT BAWA
This is to inform the community that in the evening of Friday 18 February our dear friend and brother Amit Bawa passed away due to cardiac arrest at the age 48. Hailing from Srinagar, Amit came first to Auroville in 2008 and became Aurovilian in 2011. Amit, with his friendly, outgoing and ever-smiling nature, was a welcome figure in the various Auroville services to which he contributed, such as Deepanam School as learner and facilitator, as member of the Matrimandir Access group at Matrimandir itself and the Visitors’ Centre, as active participant in children’s school camps, and more. In the later years he oversaw Swayneatham guest house in Bharat Nivas, where he also peacefully lived with his cat family and transformed the gardens into a true flower paradise.

His dedicated and cheerful presence was evident throughout, and he will be sorely missed. After his parents arrived from Srinagar, Amit’s remains were cremated at the Auroville mandapam in the late afternoon of Sunday 20th. OM

DAKSHINA
Dakshina, a dear US-based friend and spiritual sister to many, passed away on 19 February due to cancer. She was the profoundly inspired and inspiring devotee of Sri Aurobindo and the Mother who founded Sri Aurobindo Sadhana Peetham in Lodi, California, a haven for weary travelers on the path where numerous Aurovilians and Ashramites have visited and stayed throughout the years.

Through her Auromere brand, she distributed books, shampoo, incense and more, of which 10% of the proceeds were donated to Auroville while the balance supported the ‘Lodi Ashram’ as the center was mostly called. Dakshina also served on the board of the Foundation of World Education and built Mother’s House for guests visiting the Sri Aurobindo Ashram in Pondicherry.

We very sincerely salute a true sister and comrade on the path, and our warmest condolences go out to the Lodi family and all her many friends.

WHAT STALLED DEVELOPMENT FOR THE LAST 20 YEARS
(Survey)

It would be great if people participated by sharing their views. It is a quick survey, unless you have lots to add in writing. The main idea is to find out what people think stalled development, which might be different to what actually did. Perhaps getting more information will help us to not make the same mistakes again. At the very least it will give us a picture of what people think.

This survey and the results will be shared with many groups and on the Auronet. Please also share it. https://docs.google.com/forms/d/e/1FAIpQLSefqxrsp4VfR2rXK4Y3s5ZUG3TF5fr4WFFEM2AE/tebidxapEA/viewform

THE ARTS

HIBISCUS ART FESTIVAL

Friday, 4th March, 7:30pm at CRIPA
Final concert by Shalini Sekhar and Shruthi Veena Vishwanath.

A warm invitation to our last concert in Auroville. We take you on a little journey, on the Road of the Wild Lily – with pieces from India, Pakistan, Afghanistan, Iran, Syria, Turkey, Greece, and Bosnia & Herzegovina – bringing to you the voices of women and those displaced from their homelands.
TALK BY MADHUR DHINGRA
Thursday, 3 March at 4:30pm to 6pm
Centre d’Art Gallery, Citadines, Auroville invites you to an Artist talk by Madhur Dhingra on Thursday, 3 March at 4:30pm to 6pm.

Madhur Dhingra is a photographer based in New Delhi, India. An advertising photographer by profession I specialize in product photography, but his heart lies in shooting people, telling stories.

Photography happened to me as a matter of chance. I was given a camera by my family and a mere curiosity turned into a lifetime passion. I have learnt my basics of photography from Triveni Kala Sangam, Mandi House, New Delhi, a renowned photography institute and art center. After that initial learning I have been self-learning through books, internet and experimentation.

After my Basic Course from Triveni Kala Sangam in 1995, I got fascinated by product photography and soon started shooting products for major advertising agencies of Delhi like O&M, MAA, Interface and a host of others. I held my first solo exhibition ‘Where Man Meets God’ in the year 1998 at India International Center New Delhi with a preview held at Art Konsult a renowned art gallery of Delhi. My preview & exhibition were widely acclaimed by important art critics and artists of India alike. It was also given full page reviews by most major newspapers of Delhi.

By nature I am a restless person and easily get bored shooting similar images. After shooting products for some years I started shooting for a personal quest where I searched for answers to some fundamental questions about life, its meaning and purpose and then later my understanding about the nature of ‘Reality’. My quest is taking me to every nook and corner of India meeting sadhus, philosophers, scientists and charlatans alike. The genre of my images is Abstract Street Photography/ Impressionist Street Photography/ Fine Art Street Photography.

I have just finished my first story titled “Shunyata – The Ultimate Void”. This story has been widely acclaimed and published by many print & digital magazines all over the world. Life for me as a photographer continues as I shoot for the next stories. www.madhurdhingra.com

CHILD PORTRAIT
I (Roof Studio/Auroville Art Service) offer to draw your baby so that you can keep the memory of his/her first smile forever.

My mission is to bring attention to children and their upbringing by my drawing/painting of them. “How to Bring Up a Child?” is an essential question to our society. I do not provide an answer but hope to trigger a public discussion about it. My values are gratitude, humbleness and love. My work is my impressions of the happy child, not a photo-like picture. I purposely chose smiling kids of an early age as they smile only when they are really happy. I enjoy my work and if you send me a photo of your child between 6 – 18 months of age, I will send you back for free a photo of my work. I will keep the right to exhibit the picture publicly and the copyright to it. I work with full confidentiality – no information about you or your baby will ever be made public. The photo should have some shadows, no flat light please. You could hold your baby so naturally it will be create shadow from the side of you. And a smile needs to be there.

- "You, as performers, achieved what it is that I believe art DOES. You carried me and every audience member out of myself, out of ourselves. You showed us what is happening in the world and in our community and in ourselves. Words are not necessary. The language of movement, the power of sound, the creation of a story through image and expression. I breathed with you and wept with you and your screams were mine. Your silence was mine, too. Your death upheld the part of me that died a bitter suffocation death in the disappointment in our elders, our community, our home. And then we walked again, found our voice, found our feet. You leap, show freedom, delicate, gentle, loud expression."

NAMOI SEeks to JOIN THE PARELLI CENTER

Hello everyone! My name is Namoi, born and raised in Auroville. I love horses and have been around them my entire life. For the last 10 years, I’ve been learning about Natural Horsemanship and for the last 5 years, I have been intensely pursuing a unique education in Natural Horsemanship from the world-class Parelli Center.

This year I got accepted to an intensive professional instructor programme in Colorado and was thrilled to have received a scholarship as well. If I’m able to complete this course and continue this journey, I’ll be the most qualified Natural Horsemanship instructor in Asia. I dream of bringing this unique knowledge and experience back to Auroville.

The course fees, flight tickets, and accommodation for the course come to INR 8,45,000 or EUR 10,000 and I’ve started fund-raising to realize this dream.

Today I’ve already raised over 60% of the funds andam so happy to see this dream slowly become a reality.

Could you please help me?

- Please share my fundraising campaign on Go Fund Me with those in your network outside of Auroville. https://www.gofundme.com/f/a-better-world-for-horses-and-people
- If you are in Auroville, please contribute to FS # 253024 Namoi Education.

Every single contribution helps and is deeply appreciated! If you’d like to learn more about my dream, I’m more than happy to share more about this course, and my dream!

Thank you so much!

Dear Community members, as the Adishakti Theater festival is fast approaching, here are some more updates. Unfortunately, due to an actor’s injury, the play “Bali” has been canceled. The dates of the 4 remaining shows have also changed slightly. The festival will now take place between 25 and 28 of March 2022.

The plays to be performed are:
- Bhoomi
- Impressions of Bhima
- Nirdravatvam

The fundraising efforts are slowly showing results. Donations have come in from an Aurovilian as well as friends of Auroville. Bharat Nivas has agreed to cover the cost of publicity, extra wages and transport for artists. All this is very encouraging indeed and I thank the donors for their wonderful gesture.

But as of today, 21st February, for the 4 days’ festival to happen we still need Rs. 40,000.

I therefore continue to appeal to the community for support for the realization of this event. Moreover, in order to start preparing for the festival in full earnest, we must have the full amount by 1st of March. The days are flying and there is a lot to do.

Kindly donate through the Financial Service account Adishakti Festival/252778. Thank you.

Below I share with you an excerpt of a press review by The Hindu dated 19th October 2021, on Adishakti’s latest play, Bhoomi:

“Almost all of Adishakti’s plays have dealt with contemporary issues, despite their being based on stories and characters from the epics. Bhoomi, the story of Araja, daughter of Shukracharya (characters from the Ramayana) takes on the challenge of speaking up for the victim of sexual violence in a dialogue between two women, women in the real world, who stand at different points in their personal journeys. It is at this point that Bhoomi comes into its own, entering strongly into the space that Veenapani Chawla created and wishing her actors to occupy and vocalize in their own ways.

The tension created is palpable, and the web closes in, drawing the audience tighter into its grasp, as the actors’ body language and stances change, and layers of self-deception and imposed silence, that conceal acts of violence from coming into the open, are revealed.”

AUROVILLE RADIO TV NEEDS YOUR HELP!

We are happy to announce that the Auroville-RadioTv is going to move to the first floor of the Archives building. The new location having more potential for growth, we have re-think the studio taking into consideration the various needs of the community to become a full flesh recording studio in the near future.

The project is therefore divided into two phases.

The first phase will allow the radio to shift its regular work without major interruption. It is expected to be finished by March, thanks to a great team and a generous donor. However, our budget is short of 5 Lakhs to finish in a timely manner. We appeal to you to help this essential service of Auroville that have adapted to the pandemic constraints by streaming our events and meetings (with more than 15k view in the last month only!) despite a very low budget and a lack of manpower. We are counting on your support to continue serving the community at our best. Please donate!

Financial account number 251369, specify “Donation for relocation – Phase 1”.

In addition, we are also proud to say that the project is realized with the help of Auroville units only! Thank you!
WHO IS THIS “MOTHER”?

The following practice resonated with me and I shared it online in 2011, and in my book in 2019 with that question in mind:

Becoming Aware of ‘Oneself’

“It’s one of the most indispensable things to do if one wants to succeed in having self-control and even a limited self-knowledge: to be able to localise one’s consciousness and move it about in the different parts of one’s being, in such a way as to distinguish between one’s consciousness and one’s thoughts, feelings, impulses, become aware of what the consciousness is in itself. And in this way one can learn how to shift it: one can put one’s consciousness in the body, put it in the vital, put it in the psychic (that’s the best place to put it in); one can put one’s consciousness in the mind, can raise it above the mind, and with one’s consciousness one can go into all the regions of the universe.

But first of all one must know what one’s consciousness is, that is, become conscious of one’s consciousness, localize it. And for this there are many exercises. One of them is very well known, it is to observe oneself and watch oneself living, and then see whether it is really the body which is the consciousness of the being, what one calls ‘myself’; and then when one has realized that it is not at all the body, that the body expresses something else, then one searches in his impulses, emotions, to see whether it’s that, and again one finds out that it is not that; and then one seeks in his thoughts, whether the thought is truly himself, what he calls ‘myself’, and at the end of a very short time one becomes aware: “No, I am thinking, therefore ‘myself’ is different from my thoughts.”

And so, by progressive elimination one succeeds in entering into contact with something, something which gives you the impression of being — “Yes, that’s ‘myself’. And this is something I can move around, I can move it from my body to my vital, to my mind, I can even, if I am very... how to put it?... very practiced in moving it, I can move it into other people, and it’s in this way that I can identify myself with things and people. I can with the help of my aspiration make it come out of my human form, rise above towards regions which are no longer this little body at all and what it contains.”

And so one begins to understand what one’s consciousness is; and it’s after that that one can say, “Good, I shall unite my consciousness with my psychic being and shall leave it there, so that it may be in harmony with the Divine.” Or else, “If by this exercise of rising above my faculties of thinking and my intellect I can enter a region of pure light, pure knowledge...”, then one can put his consciousness there and live like that, in a luminous splendor which is above the physical form.

But first this consciousness must be mobile, and one must know how to distinguish it from the other parts of the being which in fact are its instruments, its modes of expression. The consciousness must make use of these things, and you should not mistake these things for the consciousness. You put the consciousness in these things, so you become conscious of your body, conscious of your vital, conscious of your mind, conscious of all your activities through your will for identification. But for this, first you must be sure that your consciousness is not entangled, mixed, or joined, so to say, with all these things. It must not take them for itself, must not be mistaken.

When one thinks of oneself (obviously out of millions of men perhaps there are not ten who do otherwise), one thinks “Myself... that’s my body, that’s what I call ‘myself’, what’s like this. And so, I am like that; and then my neighbor, he also is the body. When I speak of another person, I speak of his body.” And so, as long as one is in this state, one is the plaything of all possible movements and has no self-control.

The body is the last instrument and yet it’s this which one calls ‘myself’ most of the time, unless one has begun to reflect.”

Answers reveal themselves spontaneously along progressive/regressive stages of the quest. It took many years before I discovered this book online: The Mother, The Story of Her Life by Georges Van Vrekhem

Happy birthday dearest Mother, and thank you so much for everything, even leaving us an Auroville, and especially for incarnating with Sri Aurobindo on Earth and giving birth to the New World. In eternal gratitude please continue to bestow upon us your blessings, your guidance, your clarity, your protection and your Grace so that this bundle of We may continue what You both have started towards a Life Divine here on Earth.

LEONARDO’S THREE-LEVELS CITY AND ROGER’S ‘VOLUMETRIC URBANISM’

The layered-city Leonardo envisaged 540 years ago heralds the future. Applying his tiering concept, an example would be the infrastructure for robot-cars and driverless vehicles necessarily separated from pedestrians. Delivery trucks could run underground. Surprised that, during Mother’s years, underground driverless capsules were foreseen for speedy or heavy traffic? The NEOM project launched in 2017, Saudi Arabia, foresees a city for one million inhabitants at three levels: traffic underground, third level; infrastructure underground, second level; residences and human activities, ground level. CityLife (Town Hall exhibition) is also a materialization of Leonardo’s concept. Traffic runs underground, at the lowest level: driverless metro; parking for 7,000 cars and two residential settlements. Shopping center at the intermediary level, also underground, restaurants, theaters, etc. At ground level, three towers for 10,000 employees, two sets of residences hosting 4,500 inhabitants, gardens, orchard-gardens and the largest public park in Europe funded privately.

In 1967 Roger, Mother’s architect, submitted to her a concept evoking Leonardo’s multi-layered city; “the town of the future” she wrote. Excerpts: “… To achieve the integration of man with his social community, we had to rediscover what made those small towns of southern Europe successful – they were so beautiful and the inhabitants were happy living in them. … We developed a concept of urbanism now called ‘volumetric’. Volumetric urbanism’ consists in recreating on selected artificial sites progressive levels with multiple perspectives. The town consists of a macrostructure, created with terraces on successive levels, that looks like a real pyramid when stripped to its essentials.

The pyramid is fitted on its exterior planes with levels of habitation which give an extraordinary contact with nature. Inside, one finds a complete complex of things necessary for living: cultural and recreational centres, commercial outlets etc. The pyramid’s vertical axis contains systems of high-speed elevators and escalators offering quick circulation within and between the levels and easy communication to residential sectors. … The number of people in each organic unit is limited so that intimate human relations remain possible, so that a kind of open fraternity can exist, a necessity in the town of the future. We feel that an important number of contacts between individuals is so necessary for a balanced community existence that, with the help of modern technology, we conceived an architecture which aims at inducing this cohesion, this warm mutuality.

In short, we start with artificial platforms, terraces on which we have positioned a highly concentrated habitat.

Running against this conception, modern western urbanism for the last twenty-five years has been geometric, horizontal – it has killed human relations and been a dramatic failure. People are isolated, lost, within a living unit neither self-sufficient nor self-contained, separated from others by lawns and linear lots. Redensification is today’s necessity. Citizens of these new cities may enjoy once again (as was the case with streets and forums of the past), the dialogue of man with man… Urbanism cannot be separated from plastic, open-ended architectural vision. Both are striving after an environment where man can live and evolve with joy. A macrostructure, like a mountain, cannot easily be changed. The macrostructure is an arrangement of space involving an underworld of sewage pipes, of water and electricity connections, main circulation ways wandering through the surface relief, natural or artificial climatic conditions bathing the whole complex. Once the macrostructure is positioned, everything becomes possible. On this structure is laid an outer skin, changeable and plastic so that it may be stretched, so that its color may suddenly be altered all along an avenue by a play, let us say, of revolving panels. Such an approach is the only one that will allow an evolution of the town in time and within a given space. The clothing of the town may be changed, renewed without drastic destruction.”

The India State of Forest Report 2021 India’s “missing” forests

What is a forest? In 1996 the Indian Supreme Court ruled that forests will not just be areas recorded as forest land in government records, but all areas which are similar to the dictionary definition of a forest, irrespective of the classification of land. With this verdict a new type of forest was born: the “deemed forest” -land that may be defined as forest once the state governments make up a local definition. Because forest in Gujarat is not the same as forest in Kerala or Manipur. Moving on a few decades and we see yet another type of forest: the “missing forest”. What is this about? Down to Earth’s editor Sunita Narain recently exposed a big gap in national forest survey estimates when analysing the State Of Forest Report 2021 (ISFR). She found that there are states where over 30-50 per cent of the land classed as forests is ‘missing’ from the government’s assessment. In total India is “missing” almost 26 million hectares of its forests. This is the difference between what is ‘recorded’ as forest area, and the actual forest cover that exists on that recorded area – defined as land having more than 10% tree cover. The recorded forest area, as per the ISFR 2021, is 76 million hectare (ha), but the actual forest cover on these lands is said to be 52 million ha. This huge tract of doubtful forest land is equal in size to the state of Uttar Pradesh, or double the size of Tamil Nadu… According to the analysis, there are states where 30 or even 50 per cent of the land classified as forests is ‘missing’ from the government’s assessment. Madhya Pradesh, for instance, has ‘lost’ nearly three million ha. In Jharkhand half the forest on paper does not exist. If this is the real state of forest loss in our country we should be worried.

The story behind the “missing” forests

India can be said to have two kinds of forests – those that are inside the officially recorded forest area, and those that are outside it. In the 2013 survey report total forest cover was estimated as 70 million ha — but it did not distinguish if this forest was inside or outside the recorded forest area. Two years later, in the 2015 State of Forest Report, the area inside the “official” forest got reduced to 51 million ha and the rest — 19-20 million ha — was said to be forest cover outside recorded forest area.

Narain says: “You can argue that this forest cover was always ‘missing’; it was not possible to assess what was ‘inside’ or ‘outside’ as forest boundaries were not digitized. And now this has been done, the forest survey can tell us that 30 per cent of forest lands are outside the forest department’s control. However, the pertinent question which remains unanswered is: what is the state of this massive land area under the control of the forest department, which does not even get classified as “scrub” in the assessment?

An agenda for action

DTE goes on to propose a solution to reinvent forest management for the future; so that we build a wood-based future, but still protect the ecologically fragile areas.

• Protect the very dense and ecologically significant forests through ecosystem payments. The very dense forests, with canopy cover of 70 per cent or more, make up just 3 per cent of India’s land area.
But the bulk of this (over 70 per cent) is found in districts classified as ‘tribal’, where the poorest people of India live. These remaining very high-quality forests must be protected at all costs for ecological security, biodiversity conservation and carbon sequestration. We must do this so that communities who live near these forests get true value-based ecosystem payments for their role in protection and to sustain their livelihoods. The compensatory payments evolved by the 12th Finance Commission must be reworked for this, with real intent and real funds which are transferred to the communities as ecosystem payments.

Focus on the lands inside — under the control of the forest department. This missing 25.87 million ha must be regenerated, with the active involvement of local communities with seriousness of intent so that people get rights not just over the grass and minor forest produce, but also the right to cut and sell the trees when they are ready for harvest. Felling of trees is not the problem, the problem is our inability to replant and regrow forests.

End the license raj on trees outside forests: Narain said the good news is people are planting trees — on their farm lands, in their backyards. But the bad news is that this is happening against all odds. In the highly restrictive conditions today, it is literally a crime to fell a tree even if you have planted it on your own land!

According to ISFR 2021, India has 53 million clumps of bamboo in the country. But the fact is that even though this plant has now been classified as a grass and taken out of the Indian Forests Act, 1927, people who plant it are still not allowed to transport it or sell it.

HELPUL HINTS

SPRING AND LIVER SUPPORT

with Ayurveda and healthy plants

The sun comes back to the northern hemisphere and days are warmer but nights are still chilly. The change of season makes the body vulnerable. Spring is part of a 3-season period (late winter, spring, summer) that takes away slowly the strength and energy, leaving us exhausted by the end of the summer.

In winter, Kapha (water and earth elements) accumulated in the body to protect us from the cold. With the warmer days, Kapha starts moving, cheerful with good energy, waking up from a restful winter.

A healthy Kapha shows in the body with lots of strength and stamina, a strong immune system and a steady and stable mind with a sense of duty, Kapha has goodwill, is warm hearted, generous and receptive, accommodating.

If Kapha is imbalanced, it shows lethargy, fatigue, loss of appetite, colds, cough with mucus, slight fever, tonsillitis, sore throat, lung congestion, allergies, hayfever, dull headaches, sinusitis, cravings for sweet, heaviness/overweight...

And in the mind, Kapha feels sad, confused, dull, lazy, feeling of not being loved/cared/heard, greedy...

If these occur, it is time to expel Kapha and help the liver to detox:

This treatment is also suitable for healthy people to detoxify, to purify and improve the metabolism of the whole body.

Watsu® 1 with Petra and Gianni
Tuesday 1 – Monday 7 March, 8:45am – 6:30pm

Watsu is an aquatic bodywork modality, developed by Harold Dull in the 1980s and given in a warm water pool (ideally 35°C).

In this course, you will be taught the basic movements and positions of Watsu, connect them with long, gracefully flowing transitions and adapt this work to people of different sizes, shapes, and dispositions. You will also learn about your own body mechanics and how to support and move each person as effortlessly as possible. You will experience floating other people and being floated, thereby creating space for deep relaxation and nurturing body, mind and spirit.

No previous experience required (and also not being able to swim)!

Watsu® & Meditation with Dariya
Tuesday 8 – Wednesday 9 March, 8:45am – 6pm

Meditation is an important tool to listen, accept and know ourselves, and to become more intuitive towards ourselves and others. The purpose of meditation is to cultivate presence and peace of mind, which foster possibilities to connect to our unique essence and the world around us. It also encourages development of our intuition through the heart rather than perception through the rational mind. This might at times support making choices from a deeper place.

Meditation essentially helps to develop our capacity for personal expansion and is the basis for our ability to deeply listen to and be fully present with the person we float during a Watsu session.
Prerequisites: Watsu Basic
Watsu® for Babies with Dariya
Friday 11 March, 8:45am – 6pm
Watsu for Babies is a beautiful and spontaneous way of experiencing the first childhood years and is open to all those who would like to experience the joy of being in water with babies. In this course, you will discover that emotions arising from spontaneous movements in water open extraordinary borders. They allow us to be in the present moment, simply listening to the breathing of the baby while being supported by the healing power of water.
Through some Tantsu and Ai-Chi exercises, you will start listening to yourself and to the baby you hold in your arms. You will also learn possible transitions of the Watsu sequence in order to expand it in a creative way for babies.

Thanks to the collaboration with Gianni De Stefani, certified WABA facilitator, Dr. Riccardo Palumbo has been able to develop a new massage, which is introduced in this course to bring Watsu into the world of babies.

Prerequisites: Watsu Basic or a degree to work with babies in water

Watsu® & Breathing with Dariya
Saturday 12 – Sunday 13 March, 8:45am – 6pm
A 2-day journey of exploring and discovering your breath and its applications in Watsu. You will also integrate the practice of Watsu qualities and the power of working with your receiver’s breath. Several topics will be discussed such as the link between breathing and yourself as a giver, but also breathing and your energetic connection with the receiver. You will also be exposed to the anatomical basis of our respiratory system to better understand its functioning.
To incorporate all these elements into your water work, you will practice, explore, share your feelings, and practice again and again…

Prerequisites: Watsu Basic

About our healing spaces

- Energy therapy: Fusion of deep guided relaxation, visualisation, reiki, pranic healing, and foot & cranial reflexology.
- Rediscovering the Self-healing power and natural Intelligence of the body: Experiencing the Presence within by quietening the thought process and contacting the body.
- Journey to the memory of the body: Journey through the trauma memories, emotional blockages and belief systems in order to release and heal these traumas, by getting aware & deprogramming these old belief systems put in place in the past, which keep us from living a very joyful life in the present.
- Shiatsu: The Quantum Shiatsu practised by Ulrike Urvasi for over 20 years follows an understanding which is multi-dimensional and holistic, reminds of and activates the self-healing forces in each one of us.
- Self-Healing based on Craniosacral therapy: Self-Healing sessions offered by Kirtan are a non-medical healing approach based on Craniosacral Therapy. It is a way for you to experience your True Self in a profoundly deep, practical, and lasting way, by attuning you to your own blueprint for health. It calls forth your natural re-alignment, resonance and healing forces.
- Shamballa Reiki: Pierre is offering treatments for those who are open to using the Universal Energy, we call Reiki, to keep us aligned during the immense shift we are all going through. In his observation “the cosmic clock is turning; the Universal Energy remains the same”.
- Essenian Healing: Essenian treatments are a therapeutic approach that uses the healing power of light and sound as well as the massage of energy points with the aim of maintaining or restoring a harmonious balance between body, soul and spirit. The healing acts by restoring the flow of energy that has been disrupted by stress, illness, negative thought forms and the difficulties of everyday life.
- Coaching: Focussing on Presence: Trained in the coaching method “l’Accompagnement en Présence” since 2017, I offer you my experience as a practitioner. Each session is an invitation to let the answers get revealed by the bodily sensations you are experiencing. This focusing process is simple, it brings you exactly to the place of the body that needs to be.

BUILDING MATRIMANDIR – LABOR OF LOVE, 1971-2008

Monday, 7 March, 4pm at Savitri Bhavan
This impressive and touching documentary on building the Matrimandir shows archival footage of the early stages of the construction and the Foundation Stone ceremony, as well as more comprehensive coverage of the final stages and includes interviews with some of the builders. The construction of Matrimandir represents a special aspect of the growth of Auroville and its soul.

On 14 August 1970 the Mother gave the message “The Matrimandir wants to be the symbol of the Divine’s answer to man’s aspiration for perfection. Union with the Divine manifesting in a progressive human unity.” And the Foundation Stone for Matrimandir was laid on Mother’s birthday in 1971 with the Mother’s message on this day: “Let the Matrimandir be the living symbol of Auroville’s aspiration for the Divine.”

The film will be shown in English and is available on two different DVDs in eight languages at the Auroville Visitor Center, published by Auroville Video Production in 2008. The film can be seen also in English on Vimeo with the link.

In Mattancherry, a small place near Fort Kochi in Kerala, live 39 communities from all around the country and some across the oceans – for over 500 years. They came here for different reasons, in different times, but they all stayed for the collective reality that was far better than any dream could convey. This is a place where the idea of India comes alive like no place else. This is a story told through the eyes of a photographer who has been documenting these communities for the past two years.

LA STRADA (The Road)
Director: Federico Fellini, Italy, 1954
With: Giulietta Masina, Anthony Quinn, Richard Basehart

Overview: One of the truly great classics of cinema, La Strada is a profound allegory about the triumph of spirit – in all its gracious and neo-realistic simplicity – over the brutal and arrogant forces of unbridled flesh. Set in the midst of poverty and mayhem of post-war Italy, this masterpiece by the great artist of cinema, Federico Fellini (La Dolce Vita, Amarcord) presents the story of Gelsomina, a simple-minded young woman bought from her mother by Zampanò, a brutish strongman, to assist him in his performances in little towns around the country.

Told with heart-rending grace, this film reveals how one can break iron chains and yet know little how to break knots that entangle one’s heart and being. La Strada became “one of the most influential films ever made.” It won the inaugural Academy Award for Best Foreign Language Film in 1957 and it was in 1992 British Film Institute list of cinema’s top 10 films. Introduced by Prof. Sehdev Kumar as part of his Series, “International Film Classics and the Human Condition” in collaboration with Aurofilm. All are invited to stay for a short discussion and comments after the screening of the film.

Italian version, with English subtitles, duration 1h48’ Covid 19, please follow the current SOP at MMC.
